Article 1 To cultivate students' proactive learning attitudes, these Regulations are established in accordance with Article 18 of the Student Course Selection Regulations of Fu Jen Catholic University. This Department (including the Undergraduate Program, Master's Program, Executive Master's Program, and Ph.D. Program, hereinafter referred to as "the Department") formulates these Regulations. Course selection advising regulations for undergraduate students in the School of Continuing Education shall be stipulated separately.

Article 2 The Department shall announce its study rules and course selection precautions every academic year, and shall explain the curriculum planning contents of the Department during freshman orientation activities or introductory university courses.

Article 3 Students of the Department shall complete a course selection plan before the end of the first semester following their enrollment, and submit it to the Department Office for record-keeping after obtaining the signature/seal of their advisor.

Article 4 Students of the Department may modify their course selection plans in accordance with their personal academic career planning, and submit the updated plan to the Department Office for replacement after obtaining the signature/seal of their advisor.

Article 5 If students of the Department have any questions regarding course selection, they should proactively seek assistance from their advisors or the Department Office; undergraduate advisors shall log the advising of students in completing or modifying their course selection plans into the Advisor Guidance System.

Article 6 These Regulations shall be promulgated and implemented after being reviewed and passed by the hierarchical Curriculum Committee and acknowledged by the Academic Affairs Meeting. The same procedure shall apply to any subsequent amendments.
